SSVdP: Project Spotlight

SSVP Sewing Circle: Two ladies are beavering away cutting and sewing clothing for the needy children in the valley. They bring their sewing machines to St Dom's for work and fellowship one day each week and would love some help, particularly with cutting. All materials and patterns are supplied.

Anyone who would like to give of their time for this corporal work of mercy, could either join the ladies at St Dom's or could cut out and/or sew at home. As the time of giving is almost upon us, we appeal to all good seamstresses to consider giving a small portion of their time to this good work.

A day at Tala Game Reserve

By Sabrina Thompson

During one of our afternoons at one of our drop-in centres, I introduced the high school group to the idea of a bucket list. One of the girls mentioned that visiting a zoo was on her bucket list and so the idea of visiting Tala Game Reserve was born. I contacted the General Manager, Mr Mike Nunan, who kindly arranged for us to have free entry into the park for the day. On Thursday 14 July, the teenagers piled into four SUVs and, in a short while, were excitedly standing at the hide overlooking the hippo pool at Tala Game Reserve, enjoying hot chocolate and muffins before the morning's game drive around the park. The hippos were close enough to be seen bobbing up and down with the occasional wide yawn, and the boys found looking through the binoculars a huge novelty.

There was much fun in the vehicles as the children competed to see who would spot an animal first. We had really good sightings of giraffe, zebra, wildebeest, warthog, a variety of buck and rhino. After our game drive we made for the picnic site and enjoyed a braai. Having meat made it a special picnic for the children and the cake for dessert was the cherry on the top!

Most of the children who belong to our drop-in centres have not had the opportunity to go beyond the confines of Hillcrest and the valley, besides their visit to Ushaka during the last Christmas holidays. It is our hope that, as well as helping with their weekly English lessons, we can expand their life experiences in small ways, so that they can enjoy a taste of the activities most of our children and grandchildren take for granted. Thank you to Sabrina, Morrell and Paul who provided the transport and picnic for the children.

Christmas Tree Gifts

Parishioners are invited to take a star off the Christmas tree at the back of the church over the next few weeks and buy a suitable gift (of no more than R100) for the gender and age of the child chosen.

Please return the wrapped gift, with your star attached to the church by no later than Sunday, 11 December.

The gifts will be presented to the children of Embo at their Christmas party on Thursday, 15 December.

Youth Talk: "Stop Checking Your Phone During Mass": A Note to Myself
by DILLON DUKE

I love God and I also love football. You might be able to see why Sundays are, in my opinion, the best day of the week. Being able to consume the body and blood of Christ is the best thing you can do any day, but also being able to watch one of the most entertaining sports on the same day is a nice touch to the day.

During one particular Sunday, my favourite team was playing while I was at Mass. I was trying my hardest to pay attention to the readings and immerse myself in the Mass but I cracked. I decided to take a look at my phone before the homily started. While it took nothing more than a few seconds for me to open my phone, look at the score, and then turn my phone off, my focus for the rest of the Mass was completely gone. While I was physically in the Mass, my mind was somewhere completely different.

A glance at your phone during Mass may seem harmless enough, but what it does to your attention and connection to the Eucharist is immeasurable.

The Respect of Attention

Our attention is sacred. You probably haven't thought of it as such but undivided attention to one particular subject is a true gift. While it may be great to receive, there are some scenarios where attention is expected.

Imagine going to grab dinner with a great friend that you love dearly. You don't get to see this friend as often as you like, so you cherish the time that you do have with them. Right after you order your food and you're about to see how they are doing, their attention has now vanished for an app on their phone. Rude, right? That's what we're doing when we pull out our phone during the Mass.

When we choose to look at our phone during Mass, we're putting our God second, and whatever is on our phone is first. Are we really going to pull ourselves away from a celebration as beautiful as the Mass for a screen? There is no notification on your phone that is more important than what is happening in the Mass.

When we choose to look at a screen during Mass, our attention is diminished and we might get less out of the Mass. Mass is a celebration but when we look at our phone, we might not get the full message of what that Mass has to offer. In order to get the full effect of the Eucharist, we need to give full attention to everything in the Mass.

Noise-Cancelling

The question in front of us now is "How do we receive the most we can during Mass?"

The first aspect is having no distractions during the Mass itself. My parish back home always reminded the congregation before mass to "turn your phone to prayer mode", that is, off or on silent.

The other aspect of getting better at focusing during the Mass actually takes place outside the Mass itself. I've found that if I go into Mass having read the readings for that day, it becomes much easier to focus. Instead of encountering a reading for the first time, I can now see how the readings connect with each other or get something out of a particular phrase that I didn't the first time. By doing some "homework" before Mass, we can be much more attentive to the service and attain more out of it.

BRB Gotta See God

Unplugging from society is hard no matter what the situation is. Our attention is sacred, so let's make sure that our God has all of it when we do see Him.

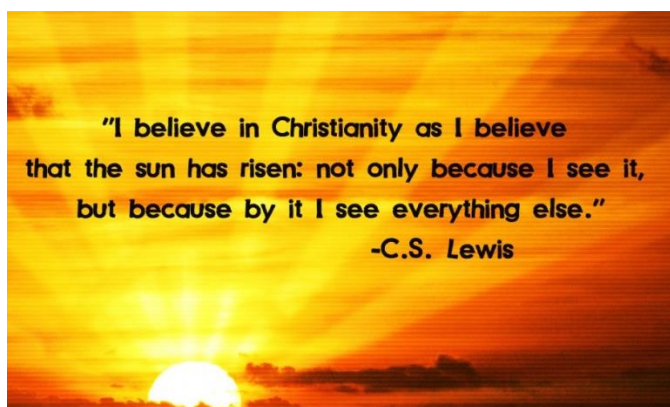

St Dominic's Repository

Come to our repository for a wonderful selection of devotional items. We also have a range of lovely Christmas goodies at the moment such as:

How long can you keep hatred in your heart?

A kindergarten teacher decided to let her class play a game. The teacher told each child in the class to bring along a plastic bag containing a few potatoes. Each potato would be given a name of a person that the child hated. So the number of potatoes that a child would put in his/her plastic bag depended on the number of people he/she hated.

So when the day came, every child brought some potatoes with the name of the people he/she hated. Some had 2 potatoes, some 3 while some up to 5 potatoes. The teacher then told the children to carry the potatoes in the plastic bag with them wherever they went for 1 week. Days after days passed, and the children started to complain due to the unpleasant smell let out by the rotten potatoes. Besides, those having 5 potatoes also had to carry heavier bags. After 1 week, the children were relieved because the game had finally ended.

The teacher asked: "How did you feel while carrying the potatoes with you for 1 week?" The children let out their frustrations and started complaining of the trouble that they had gone through having to carry the heavy and smelly potatoes wherever they went.

Then the teacher told them the hidden meaning behind the game. The teacher said: "This is exactly the situation when you carry your hatred for somebody inside your heart. The stench of hatred will contaminate your heart and you will carry it with you wherever you go. If you cannot tolerate the smell of rotten potatoes for just 1 week, can you imagine what is it like to have the stench of hatred in your heart for your lifetime?"

Moral: Throw away any hatred for anyone from your heart so that you will not carry that burden for a lifetime. Forgiving others is the best attitude to take. Remember the good things, and let go of the hatred.

The Last Laugh

There were four churches in a small town: a Presbyterian church, a Baptist church, a Methodist church and a Catholic church. Each church had a problem with rats.

The Presbyterian church called a meeting to decide what to do about their rats. After much prayer and consideration, they determined the rats were predestined to be there and they shouldn't interfere with God's divine will.

At the Baptist church the rats had taken an interest in the baptistery. The deacons met and decided to put a water slide on the baptistery and let the rats drown themselves. The rats liked the slide and, unfortunately, knew instinctively how to swim so twice as many rats showed up the following week.

The Methodist church decided that they were not in a position to harm any of God's creatures. So, they humanely trapped their rats and set them free near the Baptist Church. Two weeks later the rats were back when the Baptists took down the water slide.

But the Catholic Church came up with a very creative strategy. They baptised all the rats and consecrated them as members of the church. Now they only see them at Christmas and Easter.
